Wanted: $1,000 Street Markers at Intersections

Delbert Lowes reported to the Chamber of Commerce Thursday night that attractive markers are now available. It will cost a little more than $1,000 to erect all of the street markers which are needed at the intersections.

Several years ago markers were erected, but all of these have either been knocked over, or have become so dim with age that they cannot be read. Canyon needs an entire new set of street markers.

The Chamber of Commerce does not have funds to go into this project. It is hoped that some organization will volunteer to take up the project, raise the money and see that the markers are erected at the various intersections.

In the meanwhile, the Chamber urges that all home owners see to it that their homes are properly marked with regulation numbers. Numbering all homes will be of great benefit in directing visitors to the homes of Canyon.

Merchants Asked Help End Raids Of Gyp Artists

Canyon has been lucky so far this year in escaping gyp artists who blow into town, sell advertising in song books, church fans, and other questionable schemes.

The Chamber of Commerce has appointed a secret advertising committee which will investigate all schemes which are presented to the business people of Canyon.

If each and every business firm will ask these out-of-town solicitors for a letter of approval from the Chamber of Commerce before they buy, a vast amount of money will be saved during the course of a year.

Canyon had such an advertising committee several years ago, and it stopped a lot of grafters as long as the business firms would co-operate with the Chamber.

The plan will not work unless each and every business firm will demand such a letter of recommendation before they buy the products of these solicitors.

Coke Stevenson Has No Fear of Russia Under Her Present Plan Complete Individual Domination

Coke Stevenson, former Governor of Texas and now a candidate for United States Senator, spoke at the Canyon Rotary Club luncheon Tuesday. He was introduced by Clyde W. Warwick to 86 men of the community who were highly impressed by his talk on government.

Mr. Stevenson did not mention his candidacy for the Senate. He spoke of his high appreciation of membership in the Rotary Club at Junction and his perfect attendance record for nearly nine years.

Mr. Stevenson stated that he plans to return to the Panhandle before the July primary and will speak in Canyon.

In recognition of the 112th anniversary of Texas independence, the former governor talked about the principles involved in this declaration in comparison as well as those issued when America became a free nation. He compared these with the constitution of Russia.

Coke Stevenson stated that he was not too much alarmed over the situation in Russia. No nation could become great when the people were handicapped in their freedom and their development. He pointed to the great inventions of America under the freedom of thought and action. This would be impossible in Russia, which directs the education and thought of every boy and girl. Only about 2 million members of the "party" in Russia can own property while the balance are directed on state owned lands by these "party" members.

He said that as long as this country is free and that any man can live and work as he pleases we can outstrip any nation that regiments its people to the point of killing their citizens and their ideas. He said that the lack of individual initiative in a country like Russia would hold it down, while initiative in this country would keep progress in high gear. He said this was the reason he was not worried too much about the doings in Russia.

"I am," he added, "anxious about the doing in this country—the infiltration of ideas from across the sea. If this country ever fails, the cause will be from the enemy from within and not an invader; the cause will be political corruption aided by this infilteration of ideas from places like Russia.

Stevenson expressed the belief that Russia would fall of its own weight. "In our Texas language," he said, "they have bitten off more than they can chew. This happened to the Roman Empire."

Irving SoRelle was introduced by Tom Knighton as a new member of the Rotary Club.

Water Hearings Were Postponed Until Monday

Hearing on the water line from Amarillo through Randall county was postponed until Monday of next week.

The Potter county committee returned its first appraisal Monday, setting the damage at $7.50 per rod, which is three times the amount offered by the city of Amarillo.

A large number of land owners from the Northwest part of the county attended a meeting at the Highland school Friday night to hear officers of the Randall County Farm Bureau explain the damage that will result to irrigation projects of that section of the county if and when Amarillo drills all of the water wells that are now contemplated.

All land owners were invited to make contribution to the fund which is being raised to fight the rights of the land owners. About 50 land owners have contributed to the fund, which is being used to secure the services of a highly qualified engineer.

It was pointed out that all water surveys indicated that only a temporary water supply could be secured by pumping dry this area of Randall County, where as there was an adequate supply of water northeast of Amarillo at the Pantex location.

It was stated at the meeting that both Governor Jester and Col. E. V. Spence of the Texas Board of Water Engineers had stated that no city should develop a water structure which would last for less than 50 years. Water engineers have pointed out that the present field in Randall county will not furnish Amarillo with water for more than 20 years. At the same time land owners will be deprived of the use of water for irrigation purposes.

Editorials

We refuse to get all steamed up over President Truman's social program, which is causing such a furor in the South. We cannot look upon his civil rights program as a slap at the South. The Republican candidates are as strong for this program as the President. Why? Politics, pure and simple politics. The fact is that the Negroes hold the balance of power in several key states. The Democratic nominee in the November election must have this Negro vote in order to win. The South has stayed with the Democratic party through thick and thin—with the exception of Al Smith—and the President now takes the South for granted. If the Southern states rebell against Truman, we shall have a Republican president for four years. During that time the Republicans will push through the proposed "reform" (?) measures in spite of everything that the South can do. What would we gain? Absolutely zero. While the Negro is a major race in many parts of the South, he is a minority race in a vast part of the nation, and is treated as a minority group. It is the fear of those sections where the Negro is in a majority that leads to the general alarm over the race question. It is this fear which causes the South to impose segregation, the poll tax law and other racial prohibitions. Outside of the South, the race question is not considered a serious menace to white supremacy. Therefore, the whites of the South are in a minority so far as the nation is concerned, and the people of other states look upon the South as standing in the way of the Negro, while as a matter of fact most Southern people know more about the race situation and know better how to handle the Negro than do those from the North. From a pure political standpoint, the South is on the losing end of the battle. The civil rights bills, or whatever else you may call them, will eventually be passed by Congress, regardless of what we think about them. We can see no sense in the state of Virginia, for instance, keeping the name of President Truman off the November election ballots. As matters stand today, Truman has a chance to win. If the South revolts against him, Truman will be defeated, and a staunch Republican will be elected to carry out this civil liberty program. We imagine there is great glee in the GOP political camp as the party sees the Democrats fighting among themselves at this stage of the campaign.

We understand that even newspaper publishers often wonder about this news print shortage. Just get out your pencil and any reader will soon be convinced that it is no mystery. Take the Canyon News as an example. This is only a small country weekly newspaper. But in the past three years the circulation of the News has increased just exactly 25% without any kind of soliciting. This increases the consumption of paper 25% on a normal 8-page edition. But the News is printing 16 pages every week, or double the size of the paper three years ago. This adds up to an increase of practically 200% in the consumption of newsprint of this weekly paper in three years. Practically every weekly in the nation has increased its consumption of newsprint that much or more. And the dailies? There would be no limit to the use of print paper for the big dailies, if they could secure the paper. As it is, the dailies have had to refuse additional subscriptions and turn down advertising contracts by the wholesale. Now you can understand what has happened to the paper of the nation.

The News is starting its 53rd year with this issue. Several years ago we were pointing to the 50th birthday of the paper with the determination of getting out an adequate anniversary edition. However, the readers will remember the trials and tribulations of newspapers three years ago—no help, no paper. Today the situation is about the same—more help, but no more paper. However, to let you in on a little shop secret, The News hopes to get out an historical edition in August or September. You will remember that on Sept. 1 Dr. J. A. Hill will retire as President of West Texas State after 38 years of service. If humanly possible, and if print paper can be secured, The News hopes at that time to publish an edition dedicated to the life and accomplishments of Dr. Hill. However, we have not yet secured an additional allotment of paper, and our dreams of the past year may be shattered. We are letting you know that something should be done about this event of more than passing interest.

We heard a speaker say the other day that America is wasting 5,000,000 acres of land annually. We are a wasteful people. We are pushing farm production to the limit with little thought for the future. Fortunately all people in America do not have such ideas. There are millions of people who are alarmed at the manner in which our natural resources are being wasted. Many of them are determined to do something about this waste. A wise land conservation program is being administered. Some city folks are of the opinion that this is just another government sop thrown to the farmers. Those who have made a serious study of soil conservation know that the situation is serious. No crops can be raised in many parts of the old world because the soils have been allowed to wash away and deteriorate. If America is wasting five million acres annually, as this authority says, the next generation in America may go hungry some day. It is time that we seriously consider the needs of this nation, not only for the present, but for the future.

We heard the distinguished economist Stuart Case speak last week. His plea was that a depression was unnecessary, if we used our heads. He believes that the present drop in prices is a good thing, provided prices stop before a depression starts. Mr. Chase states that America is ready to use atomic power, and when this power is put into use there will be a reformation which will hurt many people; but in the long run the nation will benefit. Mr. Chase has a wide acquaintance among the leaders of the nation and has had an unusual opportunity to study problems that exist in the world. He has written 21 books in 21 years, and is now writing his 22nd book. To the man on the street Chase writes far above his head. Fortunately Chase is a better speaker than he is a writer so far as entertainment is concerned.

Henry Wallace thinks that Joe Stalin should be invited to a world conference which could formulate a world peace policy. The balance of us are rather doubtful about the results when Stalin sits at the conference table. America has had some experience with Stalin, and knows how much liquor he can drink and what a hard trader he is when he starts drinking and trading. Just look at the way in which he out traded Roosevelt and Churchill. Joe took the shirts off the backs of these two men of world affairs without their realizing what was happening to them. Of course Wallace would give away the resources of America without batting an eye, and Joe would gladly accept. Those two fellows would get along famously so long as we were giving and Joe was receiving.

The Red Cross drive for funds is on. During the war the Red Cross was the most liberally supported organization in America. Facts are that the Red Cross is not a wartime organization. The Red Cross rushes to the scene of every disaster and gives aid at a time when on other organization is ready for action. We saw that happen in Texas several times last year. When you give money to the Red Cross you are not giving to charity thousands of miles away from home, but you are giving to an organization that is ready to rush aid to Canyon and Randall county in time of tragedy. Do your part in aiding this fine organization.

We have been told that the hot heads of America are supporting Henry Wallace. Perhaps that is so. If true, then you may be proud of the students of West Texas State. There are few hot heads among the students who will cast a vote in the November election. A poll was taken last week, and Wallace received very minor support. Perhaps some radical adult leader may be able to change the attitude of the students before election time, but without outside interference the students spoke their minds as favoring Truman and Stassen now.

About the time some one tells us that Russia is in no position to wage another war, along comes Stalin grabbing up another nation. This time it is Czechoslovakia. It is unfortunate that the nations of Europe are in no position to offer resistance. Russia is carefully grabbing all territory to the west of them, nation after nation. While she has four million men under arms, according to the experts, Russia could hardly afford to open an all-out offensive against all of these defenseless nations. It is better tactics to grab off one nation at a time.

According to the United States News, Russia's present economic potential is equal to about the U. S. level of 1902. By 1960, it is expected she will be about equal the U. S. level obtaining in 1915. Her major weaknesses are in transport, agriculture and skilled labor. Her main strength lies in population and undeveloped natural resources.

We have another Long in this political business. This time it is Earl Long, brother of the late Huey Long, who was elected governor of Louisiana. If Earl has the same power as Huey over our neighbors to the east, a lot of things may happen which will be distasteful to the people of the Southwest.

A recession is a period in which you tighten your belt. In a depression you have no belt to tighten, and when you have no pants to hold up, it's a panic.

Henry Wallace, presidential candidate, insists that Mr. Truman must fire Cabinet members Averell Harriman and James Forrestal, as well as Army Secretary Kenneth Royall, as initial price for his withdrawal from the race. The President shows no interest in fulfilling these terms.

George Marshall, Secretary of State, is opposed to any United Nations plan for dealing with the Palestine problem that will open the way for Russia to send troops to that area. If American troops are included in any police force set up by the United Nations, Russia will insist upon including some of her own, thereby gaining a foothold in the Middle East.

U. S. diplomats and military leaders are shrugging their shoulders and offering the remark: "Let the White House handle that one," when dealing with the issue of Palestine. The attitude is that President Truman was the one who plumped for partition of Palestine, and that he's the one who has to figure out how to get the resulting troubles straightened out.

John L. Lewis figures that 1948 may be his last chance to get big new concessions for coal miners before the period of coal surplus returns, which accounts for the growing official fear that a coal strike is in the offing.

Top U. S. military men see no way out in Greece except for this country to take a bigger and bigger hand in supplying and directing the Greek Army. Mr. Truman has the U. S. deeply committed in a military operation far back in the mountains of Greece.

Precsident Truman is finding that his economic advisers are more optimistic than some business men in his Cabinet about the chance of holding off a setback in business until after election. Mr. Truman is being told by his Council of Economic Advisers that the country is "fundamentally sound."

'Dear Ruth' Cast Completed; Performance Dates Not Set

'RUTH'

PHYLLIS PERKINS
. . . Has Title Rele

"Dear Ruth," two-act comedy to be presented in the Branding Iron Theatre sometime during the first week of March, will celebrate the Tenth Anniversary of Eta Iota, West Texas State chapter of Alpha Psi Omega, national dramatic society.

The play, featuring Phyllis Perkins, senior from Pampa, in the title role, will be directed by W. A. Moore, dramatics instructor. Lin Welch, senior from Twitty, will act as student director.

Sybil's part, not previously announced, will be that of Miriam, leading comedy role. This role, Moore explained, was one of the most difficult to cast. Sybil was chosen after 12 girls had read the part.

"Dear Ruth" will be presented in intimate theatre style. Moore explained that this style features the stage in the center of the room with seats for the audience circling aroun dit. This will be the first intimate theatre presented this year. The style was previously presented last spring in the presentation of "Soldier's Wife."

Moore has written Leon Lasser, dramatics instructor here March 3, 1938, when Eta Iota Chapter was installed, to inform him of the anniversity celebration. Lasser is at present with the State Department of Education, Salem, Oregon.

"Charter members are to be invited as special guests," Moore said, "provided we can locate them."

"The fact that some of the female members have married and changed their names makes it more difficult," he added, "and if anyone knows of their whereabouts I would appreciate their telling me."

White House advisers show no enthusiasm over Mr. Truman's plan for $570,000,000 of aid to China. The Administration's reversal from previous opposition is in response ot pressure from Republicans in Congress, and is aimed at helping to win support for the Marshall Plan.

Frightened by Congressional investigators, Agriculture Department officials are now having all phone calls in and out of the department recorded to cover themselves against charges that they leaked information on the grain exchanges.

I have changed my mind about playing the wicked role in "The Tree Musketeers." I will accept it. In consideration of world conditions and the economic effect upon the motion picture industry, there could be no other decision.—Lana Turner, motion picture actress.

Obsessed by his own greatness, John L. Lewis has informed all district chiefs of the United Mine Workers to prepare for a paralyzing coal strike to begin May 1 unless he gets his way on the administration of the miners' welfare funds.

Many Ducks Dying Of Lead Poisoning

Shot Picked Up With Gravel Eventually Causes Death.

DES MOINES, IOWA. — Wild ducks are dying by the thousands along the Missouri river bottoms in western Iowa. The deaths are the result of internal lead poisoning for which there is no known antidote.

Most of the dead ducks are mallards. The lead poisoning is brought on when healthy ducks in search of food or gravel swallow spent shot which they have picked up from the bottoms of marshes and lakes. A single No. 5 or No. 6 shot, absorbed into the duck's bloodstream, can cause death.

The lead in the bloodstream causes a creeping paralysis which causes the wings to droop until the bird is unable to fly. The breast wastes away, the digestive tract finally is affected, and the bird dies.

Ammunition manufacturers have been searching for a substitute for lead shot pellets but up to the present time no satisfactory substitute has been found.

University of Minnesota, which has been seeking a substitute since 1936 as a wildlife conservation measure, reported it had found an alloy of lead with one-half to 1 per cent magnesium which will not poison ducks and which has been produced as drop shot experimentally on a miniature scale in a commercial shot tower.

Convict Claims Opera Influenced His Jurors

CHICAGO. — Edward Morris, for 27 years an inmate of Stateville penitentiary, thinks that the comic opera, "The Beggar's Opera," had a lot to do with his conviction on a murder charge in 1921.

Morris, petitioning the U. S. district court for his release on a habeas corpus writ, said the jury which heard his case viewed a performance of the opera in which most of the action centered upon hanging.

The 59-year-old prisoner's petition asserted "the jurors chuckled at the plight of the hangee." Morris contends that when the hero of the opera received a last minute reprieve "all but the jurors" in the audience applauded.

Mexican State of Tabasco Cleared of Hoof-Mouth Ill

MEXICO CITY.—With the slaughter and burial of 278 head of infected animals in the Macuspana area, the State of Tabasco is now free of any known hoof-and-mouth infection, the United States-Mexican commission for the eradication of the disease has announced.

"The Tabasco breaks were beyond the quarantine line that has been established along the Coatzacoalcos river," the announcement said. "As such they threatened the entire State of Tabasco. But by acting promptly the disease appears to be eliminated.

"Slaughter is the only sure way of eradication and will be used in similar situations along either the southeastern or northern boundaries of infection."

The program of replacing mules for oxen is scheduled to end by March 1. The commission has warned all farmers who have sacrificed their oxen in the campaign and wish mules that they must inform district offices to this effect by February 1.

From October 3, 1947, when the commission assumed responsibility for the mule program, 3,000 mules have been distributed.

Air Travel Holds Threat of Introducing New Diseases

CHICAGO. — Rare tropical diseases are presenting an increasing threat to this country because of the speed and volume of postwar travel, and future protection demands international action toward control of certain diseases throughout the world.

This warning was contained in an editorial in the Journal of the American Medical Association and in an accompanying article describing what is known about kala-azar, a rare disease transmitted by a species of sandfly in two areas visited by many thousands of servicemen: The Burma-China area and the Southern Italy-North Africa area.

"Velocity plane travel," the editorial says, "in part nullifies the usual quarantine methods and may allow entrance of patients with yellow fever, plague, cholera and epidemic typhus."

Prisoner Surmounts Tree, But Not Barbed Wire Fence

CEDARTOWN, GA. — A Georgia moonshiner licked the problem of the sapling which stood between him and freedom, but the barbed wire fence was too much.

U. S. Revenue Agent A. H. Ayers said he had handcuffed the man to the sapling and gone after the rest of the group of moonshiners.

When he returned for his prisoner, said Ayers, he found the man had climbed the tree and escaped. The escapee was found, handcuffs and all, hung up on a barbed wire fence.

There also is a shortage of oil to pour on troubled waters.

BOYCE HOUSE
"Gives You Texas"

Almost 25 years ago, Brady sent out a motorcade to extend an invitation to the sheep and goat raisers to attend the convention which was held that year in that city and I went along, being in those days a young newsgatherer for the old Fort Worth Record.

Just as soon as the motorcade—consisting of about 20 cars with nearly 100 persons—came to a stop in the first town, somebody stepped out of the waiting crowd and asked, "Where is Boyce House?" When this had happened four or five times, the other motorcaders—none of whom had ever heard of me until that trip—began to be impressed.

Fact of the matter was, I had written to the mayor or Chamber of Commerce manager in each town and said that if he'd see me and give me a few interesting facts about the place, I'd include it in the writeup!

It was the same trip that a fellow newspaperman imbibed rather freely across the Rio Grande and when he got back to the hotel, gave me his pocket book to keep for him. Next morning, he'd forgotten all about it; told me he'd been robbed and when I told him I'd be glad to make him a loan and he eagerly agreed, I pulled out his pocket-book and handed it back to him to his great surprise and delight.

Then there was another newspeperman and he had just raised the water bottle for a drink when the car hit a chug-hole and he almost strangled. We pounded him on the back and at last he gasped, "Don't tell anybody; they wouldn't believe it was water—or else they would say I was so unused to drinking water that it strangled me."

Tragedy threw its shadow across the trip. In Del Rio, an attorney gave the address of welcome and then we "fell to" on the barbecue dinner. An hour or so after the speech, the attorney was stricken with a heart attack and died.

At Sonora, there was a dance on a platform in the center of town and it was quite a scene to hear the fiddles going and see the cowboys clumping about the dance-floor in their high heeled boots.

A citizen told a story of a shooting which he said had taken place in the town's wild-and-wooly days. Two men were playing a game of pool one night. One player stooped over the table to make a shot and, the instant that he bent, a bullet came through a window and killed his adversary.

Quite an interesting experience was that Brady motorcade. It doesn't seem like towns have them, any more.

Underseas Farming Foreseen in Future

Diver Says High Production Is Possible in Ocean.

NEW YORK.—Two young deep sea divers, Vincent Palmer and his wife, Lucie, believe that the sea holds the possibility for wiping out hunger on the earth.

"Aquaculture is the agriculture of the future," Palmer asserted in a recent lecture.

"An average acre of undersea surface can produce as much edible food as an acre of the best farm land. The temperature under water is controlled. The vegetation is high in protein and vitamins."

Palmer, who is 35, became fascinated by the underwater world 16 years ago. He made his first trip beneath water on an expedition with Dr. William Beebee. He now heads an underwater engineering firm, with headquarters in New York.

Mrs. Lucie Mackay Palmer, 34, began diving with her husband shortly after their marriage in 1939.

The development of projects rather than divers is the need, Palmer said. He explained that the navy had developed men in the war who were having a hard time now to find a use for their diving knowledge.

"The average commercial diving job is pretty soft," Palmer said. "You sink, float, look and then repeat."

The Palmers took part in a job last year that was not soft. With a crew of men, they worked 45 days to repair a pipeline that had cut off the water supply of Guayaquil, the major port of Ecuador. Three repair crews had been imported to fix the break. Each failed.

"It had to be done," Palmer said. "The people needed water. The currents and 14-foot tides created the constant danger of sweeping us down stream. We had a crew of 11 men just to pull us in."

Light Images Replace Pins In New Bowling Device

A device tentatively named "Petersen's Pinless and Boyless Bowling Machine," is responsible for this revolutionary new form of bowling.

With the new machine the bowler steps up to a regulation alley. He inserts a coin in a slot to begin his game. The alley lights up and the bowler gazes upon a regulation setup of tenpins. So he thinks. Actually the "pins" are shafts of light. Upon delivering the ball in normal manner the bowler registers a strike or other hit as he would with pins. The ball is scooped out of the pit and returned.

Margaret Truman's Portrait Now Hangs in White House

WASHINGTON. — The life-sized portrait of Margaret Truman just completed by Greta Kempton was presented to the Truman family by a group of friends. The portrait hangs in the central hall of the private family quarters on the second floor of the White House, where the President's portrait by the same artist also hangs.

The new portrait completes a father-and-daughter quartet — Secretary of the Treasury John W. Snyder and his daughter, Drucie, having previously been subjects for Miss Kempton. Miss Snyder's portrait hangs in her father's office in the treasury.

Miss Truman said that the portrait required five sittings, all of which had been in Washington.

"She chose the green room background because my eyes were green," the President's daughter added.

The East Room grand piano, which also was used as background, was done from a photograph, the artist explained. She added that she also had taken some artistic liberties with the concert tour gown in which Miss Truman posed, altering its lines in some places.

Milwaukee Cops Will Film Tipsy Drivers for Evidence

MILWAUKEE, WIS. — Motorists arrested on charges of driving while drunk are likely to break into the movies, with themselves as the principal characters.

Chief of Police John W. Polcyn said that the police department would experiment soon with taking motion pictures in color of drunken drivers to be used as evidence against them in court, if necessary.

The experiments will get under way as soon as a studio is arranged at the safety building where tipsy drivers will be put through the customary tests while a camera records all their actions.

Duke of Windsor Doesn't Like 'New Look' Either

PALM BEACH, FLA.—The Duke of Windsor's comment here on the "new look" dress length was: "If you have good legs, why hide them?"

When someone reminded him that not every woman had shapely limbs, the duke gallantly replied:

"Remember, you said that, I didn't."

An idiosyncrasy is a physical or mental peculiarity.

SHORT SHORT STORY

Men Are So Independent

By

MARIA MORAVSKY

3-Minute Fiction

THE electric eye bell tinkled melodiously and the man walked in. Miranda gave him a good look before he saw her. She was standing in the shadowed corner, behind the counter piled with ties.

He was tall, dark and handsome, just like the men gypsies always see in the future of any girl. His eyes were as blue as the gulf. When he came closer and laid his battered panama on the counter, the girl noticed white hair, shining like tinsel among the dark brown.

"What can I do for you?" her voice was eager.

"Well, you might look at these samples," he opened a box of machine-made ties.

Miranda imperceptibly wrinkled her small nose. A salesman—with all that physique! He ought to be in the movies, she thought derisively. And here he was, selling ties.

"I keep in stock only hand made . . ." she said with polite regret. "This is what gives my ties distinction . . ."

"Can I show you some of those new glass belts?" he asked wearily.

"Why, yes. I sell belts, too. That's something I can't make, so . . ." she was glad he had another line of samples.

"They might sell," she said brightly. "If you give me a bargain. What are they worth?"

He named the price.

"It's too stiff for this one cylinder business," she smiled apologetically showing both dimples. "Can you come down?"

Without an answer, he walked toward the door. Miranda grew furious. This was what men did. They would not even discuss terms with her. Sometimes they tried to date her. At other times, they acted so independent. This one was the "take it or leave it" kind.

THE anger of many humiliations welled within her. She ran from behind the crowded counter, barring the salesman's way:

"Listen, mister. That's not the way to treat a woman in trade. Just because I own a hole-in-the-wall shop, is no reason for slighting me. Why, I may have a string of them one day . . ."

"I have no doubt you will," he said curtly. "Please, let me pass. My baby is crying in the car."

"Your baby!" She followed him to the car. Among the pillows on the back seat, sat a whimpering, thin girl with straw-colored hair, its end-curls damp with tears.

"Let me hold her," Miranda stretched her arms toward the child. The girl snuggled against her with a sigh of satisfaction.

"Why do you travel with a child?"

"That's the only way I can take care of her. Her mother died when she was nine months old. At first I hired a nurse, but . . ." he looked up and down the street. "Say, how long can I park here?"

He was just like the men Gypsies see in the future of a girl.

So he wanted to tell her his story. Miranda felt expanding warmth.

"Endlessly. I'm a friend of the cops. Come into the store and I'll warm her milk."

While she was heating the milk in the kitchenette at the back of the store, he told her, holding Lucy on his knees:

"I paid that nurse well. I could afford it then. I was the manager of a sport goods store. I looked like a sportsman's dummy," he smiled ruefully. "It helped attract customers. The shop was successful; they made me a junior partner. But . . . about that nurse; it was not her baby; once she let Lucy fall from the bed. The child was hurt badly. She lay for three months in a cast. After that, I took to the road. It's the only way I can have her with me, always. But sometimes, when Lucy begins to cry in the car, I feel so helpless . . ."

Miranda turned away and wiped her eyes. The electric eye bell tinkled again.

"Please, be the boss, while I feed her," Miranda asked softly. "Sell the fellow what he wants—the price list is tacked to the wall, behind the counter."

Left alone with the child, so easily entrusted into her care, Miranda revised her opinions.

"Men are so independent," she laughed to herself.

Dumas, Amarillo, Phillips On First Concert Band Tour

Last week the Buffalo Concert Band made its first tour of the Panhandle, playing before high school and adult groups in Amarillo, Dumas and Phillips.

The band left the campus about 9 o'clock Tuesday morning and played before a capacity crowd at Amarillo High School.

Miss Matilda Guame, who traveled with the band to Amarillo, played Grieg's Concerto and an encore. The band was received there and served lunch in the school cafeteria.

Dumas was the next stop on the itinerary as the band played there at 2:30.

Band members related that their biggest ovation was received at Phillips High School, where they played before a capacity paying crowd.

A large dinner was served to bandsters before the Phillips concert.

This was the first in a proposed series of trips which will carry the band to al parts of the Texas Panhandle and to Eastern New Mexico.

Many of the band members said they were highly pleased by the ovations they received and were anxious to travel more.

Two sessions of the clinic band were held, one in the morning and the other in the afternoon in preparation for the radio broadcast which was recorded by Station KAMQ in Amarillo for broadcast Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. S. L. Terry was hostess to the Central Home Demonstration Club on Friday, February 27.

Mrs. W. L. Rice, vice president, presided in the absence of Mrs. S. R. Hood, president. Mrs. Maud Walters was in charge of the opening exercise.

Our Daily Creed was read in unison and the group sang My Wild Irish Rose.

In a short resume on sewing to make up a January program, Miss Patterson emphasized the importance of accurate measurements, of laying the pattern on the straight of the material when cutting nd the use of tailor's chalk and pins. She also explained a method of sharpening scissors.

Delicious refreshments of pudding with whipped cream, cake, nuts, cheesits and hot spiced punch were served to Miss Patterson, Mrs. George Barker, Mrs. Levi Cole, Mrs. T. A. Kluck, Mrs. Hugh Kelso, Mrs. R. H. Long, Mrs. Fred Marshall, Mrs. Frank Phillips, Mrs. Rice, Mrs. Maud Walters, Mrs. Otto White, Mrs. C. V. Wilkinson and the hostess.

Averell Harriman, Secretary of Commerce, reports that the new system of individual licenses for export is rather effectively shutting off shipment of scarce materials to Russia. Some machine-tool makers, with idle capacity and the promise of Russian orders are not too pleased by this situation.

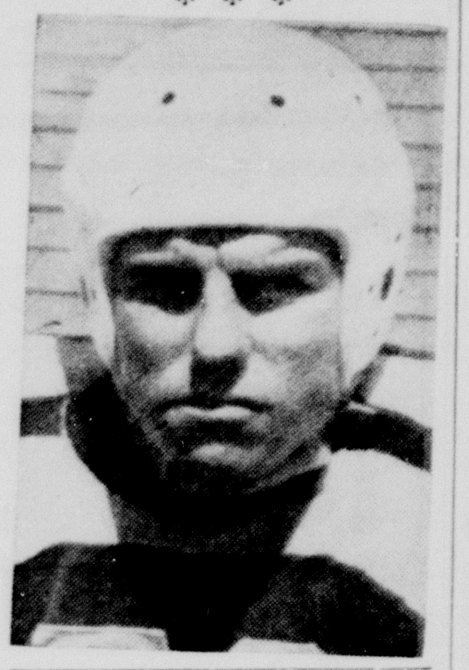
Garrett Named Most Valuable Grid Player

* * *



Homer "Buck" Garrett was named by his team mates, the most valuable Buffalo football player of the past season.

Buck is center for the Hustlin' Buffs. He will be given an engraved wrist watch presented by the Amarillo News-Globe. He will be presented the watch at the Amarillo Quarterbacks Club's banquet for West Texas State and Amarillo High School squads, Sunday, March 21.

Garrett is a graduate of Borger High where he played football. He then attended Baylor University for one year before coming to West Texas State. He has played two seasons here.

He is a junior and therefore has one year of eligibility remaining.

Buck was a standout in every game the past season, as the Buffs won 7 and lost 4 games. They finished in third place in the Border Conference, behind Texas Tech and Hardin-Simmons, the only conference foes to defeat them.

550 Register in One Day at Museum

"What I need is a neon sign to greet patrons with 'will you please register,' said the hoarse-voiced hostess in the Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum at closing time Sunday a week ago.

Myrtis Sargent, a junior from Floydada who recently accepted a position as hostess in the museum, had an unusually busy afternoon. During open hours from 2 until 6 o'clock, 550 guests registered at Miss Sargent's request, a number promised they would later and six persons were turned away at the closing hour. The unusual registration is a sure sign of spring, she said.

Out-of-state visitors came from Illinois, Kansas, Ohio, New Mexico, Iowa, Arkansas and Colorado.

Nashville Executive Will Speak on The Baptist Hour

Dr. Duke McCall of Nashville, Tennessee, Executive Secretary of the Southern Baptist Convention, will be the speaker for four Sunday morning messages on the Baptist Hour during March, using as his subjects: "The Things that are Caesar's"; "Your Church and the Public School"; "Equal — Under God"; and "The First Day of the Week."

The theme for the current quarter's messages on the Baptist Hour, sponsored by the Radio Committee of the Southern Baptist Convention, representing a membership of over six million church members, is "Divine Light for Daily Living." Dr. McCall is peculiarly fitted for these messages dealing with such themes as government, religion, public education, the sabbath, etc., for he has not only a good academic education, including the Ph. D. Degree, but has served as pastor and as president of the New Orleans Baptist Theological Seminary, and has held his present post for over two years. He is still a man of middle years, and keenly alive to all the problems of the present day.

This program can be heard over KGNC Sunday at 7:30 a. m., as well as over more than sixty other stations across the South. The program originates in Atlanta, Georgia, where the Baptist Hour Choir provides the music, including the singing of the hymns voted most popular by many thousands of listeners.

Despite heated denials from Democratic conservatives, Thomas "The Cork" Corroran will largely influence the administration of the European Recovery Program. On the sidelines ever since he was eased out of FDR's favor by the late Harry Hopkins, Corcoran has been secretly advising Truman and White House economists on how to dispense U. S. aid to the 16 western European nations.

Of course, you can't fool all of the people all of the time but you only have to fool a majority.

Congressional tax experts are predicting that the Senate will rewrite the Knutson tax bill, calling for tax cuts of $6.5 billion, to about $4 billion because of the current price dips. They are also predicting that chances for passage will be increased so long as prices continue to drop because Truman's argument against cutting taxes in boom periods will be meaningless.

A leading dark horse contender to head ERP when the program is finally approved by Congress is former Secretary of War Harry Woodring. The Kansas Democrat is now in Europe on a hush-hush inspection trip, sent there by President Truman.

Tumbleweed Wins National Honors

For the third time this year "The Tumbleweed," newspaper of West Texas High School, has had the honor of having one of its stories published in "The Echo," national high school newspaper.

"The Echo," which builds its contents of the best of the stories from high school newspapers over the United States, carried in its last issue an editorial written by Jackie Jackson, advertising manager of The Tumbleweed, entitled "Your School Is a Gift."

Jackie is a G.I. who enrolled at West Texas State High School last fall to complete work for a diploma after returning from a two years' service in the Navy, where he saw action in the Pacific area. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Jackson of Tahoka, Texas.

Program Will Be Scientific Talk

Purpose of Number Is To Stimulate Interest

Kenneth Strickfaden, representative from the Southern School Assemblies, is to be in Canyon High School, Wednesday, March 10. His topic for the assembly will be "Science Entertainment."

Mr. Strickfaden has made an outstanding reputation in recent years with his exhibition demonstration of the latest in electrical equipment and devices at such places as "Electrical Age Exposition," "California Pacific International Exposition," Canadian National Exposition," and "Eastern States Exposition," and "Golden Gate International Exposition."

Strickfaden Demonstrates

In the realm of sound he will demonstrate the generation of electricity, molecular motions, radio beacons, cardiograms; in the realm of light, phosphorescence and fluorescence, radiant energy, photo cell, stromoscope; color will be snatched from the realm of the invisible; music will be played on the Melodyne and Harmoneye—the most unusual musical instruments ever demonstrated.

It is a demonstration of spectacular electrical and musical apparatus, presenting scientific principles in an interesting and educational entertainment.

The purpose is to encourage and stimulate interest in the field of science, and to suggest how principle and idea may be joined with action and applied to commercial needs to indicate the benefits and uses of greater electrification of homes and industries.

BUBBLES ON THE FLOOR

Here comes a student into a classroom. See how gaily he steps. Wait a minute. He has stopped and is giving looks with daggers in them to something on the floor. Do you know what it is? If you can't guess then I'll tell you. It is somebody's cud of bubble gum that has fallen from their mouth the way a cow's cud sometimes falls from her mouth.

We leave and enter another classroom. A senior girl sits at her desk with her legs crossed. They touch the top of the desk and she speaks in anger. There on her best skirt is someone elses wad of gum. Some of it is removed but much of it remains on her skirt.

Now, we return to the room that we were first in. I haven't thought too much about displaced gum before. I back up against a desk and get chewing gum on me. I restrain myself from saying something. And do you know what? It is my chew that I left there a while ago. I'll never leave my chewing gum lying around anymore. How about you?

Jean Hill, editor of the Eagle's Tale, was absent from school Wednesday and Thursday due to illness.

The Age III class attended the Happy Livestock Show in Happy, Thursday evening as an educational tour.

Malcolm Gunter, the football captain of '46, was looking over the old campus last Wednesday. He came up especially to see the new trophies.

Mrs. B. P. Simon substituted for Mr. M. K. Young, science instructor, of Canyon High, last Monday who had to be out of town to get his glasses repaired.

Help Keep Canyon Clean!

The FFA boys would like to express their appreciation to the Lions Club for the banquet served them and their fathers Friday night in the college cafeteria.

Lions Club Backs Show of Ag and 4-H Club Boys

Albert Craig, a 4-H club boy, entered the Grand Champion calf in the Randall County Junior Livestock Show in Canyon last Saturday. The reserve champion was exhibited by Foster Parker, another 4-H club member. Both Hereford calves were in the heavy weight division.

For the light weight division, top honors went to Foster Parker and James Inman, an FFA member who showed the second best animal. Joe Friemel was third place winner with Jerry Shipman taking fourth. Both are 4-H members.

Winners in the heavy division are: Albert Craig, first; Foster Parker, second; Teddy Lowe, third; and Buddy Bennett, fourth; all showing Hereford calves. These boys are also 4-H members.

Inman Wins First

In the swine division at the show, James Inman won the Grand Champion Duroc heavy weight barrow. Jones Hales took reserve champion, a Black Poland China barrow in the light weight division, Tony Burrus took third, Dwayne Howard rated fourth with a light weight barrow. These boys are FFA members.

There were only four heavy weight barrows exhibited. Winners were: first, James Inman with a Duroc barrow; second, Tony Burrus with Duroc barrow; third Jerry Harding, with a Duroc and fourth, Jones Hales with a Black Poland barrow, all are FFA members.

In the light weight division Jones Hales was first with a Black Poland barrow, Dwayne Howard, second, with a Black Poland barrow, Meade Michael, third with a Black Poland and Clifford Burtz, fourth with a Spotted Poland China.

Three Pens Are Entered

There were seven pens of three's entered with Jones Hales taking first with a Black Poland pen, and Robert O'Donald, second with Duroc, and Clifford Burtz third with Spotted Poland China. There was only one litter entered which belonged to Jones Hales of Black Poland Chinas.

All these animals will be entered in the Amarillo Fat Stock Show.

A showmanship award was given to Teddy Lowe for first, and second to Foster Parker for the best exhibiting of calves in the show. In the swine division the showmanship award went to Robert O'Donald, first, and Jones Hales, second.

Examination Is Given

An oral examination was given to each boy entering the livestock in the show. The examination consisted of the rations of feed, amount of grain, expenses and receipts, amount of feed, and various other questions, to see whether the boy had fed the animal and had taken any interest in it or not. In the calf division Clifford Burtz won first; Bruce Winn, second; and Jerre Inman, third. They were all FFA members.

In the swine division Jones Hales placed first, Robert O'Donald, second, and Clifford Burtz, third, all won on their records. This examination was made by Mr. Crossland of the College Agriculture Department.

Dr. J. C. Miller, head of the Animal Husbandry Department of A. & M. College was the judge of the show.

A meeting will be held next week to decide on directors and association members for a permanent show to be held here.

The Lion's Club sponsored the show and gave a supper for the boys and their dads, Friday night, in the college cafeteria.

Grade Notes

ene Rogers is out of Mrs. Joe Black's first grade due to chicken pox.

Mrs. A. K. Goodman's third grade is making note books and writing stories for their Dutch Unit. Ronald Crow is in Amarillo for the fat stock show. He won second place in the "Panhandle" contest.

Donna Karen Barker from Gageby, Texas, is visiting in Mrs. Tom Brashers' fourth grade. She is Anna Marie Barker's cousin.

Mrs. Frank McKinney of McMurtry Acres visited Mrs. L. M. Cousins' room. Nancy Windham has been absent for two weeks due to her grandmother's illness.

Barbara Harden from Sayre, Oklahoma is a new student in Mrs. Mitchell Jones' sixth grade. 6D presented a play entitled "El Muchacho y el Chivo," "The Boy and the Goat." Characters were: el muchacho, the boy, La Nette Wallen; el chivo, the goat, Billie Graham; la ordilla, the squirrel, Dorothy Neblett; la conejo, the rabbit, Flora Jane Rose; el zorra, the wolf, Lonnie Davis; el abeja, the bee, Martha McBroom. Doris Bouren, Rae June Cabe, and Nancy Bolten selected the play and Nancy was the director.

Books are now being re-classified in the library. Mrs. R. A. Neblett recently gave a talk to the fifth and sixth grades on stamp collections. She told the history of stamps, gave different classifications, and showed albums to the classes.

Annual Section Is Third of Series

Only one more division of the annual, "Soaring Wings" to go, and the staff will have the 1948 edition completed. This shipment is three-fourths of the entire 120 pages. Three-fourths of the money due the company for publishing the yearbook was also sent along to merit the special discount given for cash paid in advance.

Mr. J. A. Saunders, Steck representative, visited the staff last Tuesday to discuss any problems of compilation and arrangement of the material that may have presented itself.

Since all the deadlines for mailing the divisions and the cash deposit has been made as required by the contract with the Steck Company, publisher of the annual, it is believed that the yearbooks will reach the students in plenty of time for "Signing Day" this year.

LATE AGAIN

"Mac, sighed Miss Sack, his teacher. "You are late to class again. Did you go by the office and get a tardy excuse?"

"Well," lingeringly Mac replied, "I went by the office but there were so many other kids waiting to get excuses I decided to come on to class."

"O My!" cried Miss Sack, as she sank into the chair behind her desk. "What is to become of our school? A few students from each class are late to practically all of their classes. It just isn't fair to the students that make a habit of getting to class on time each day."

Mac was forced to realize that he had been unfair to his classmates as well as to himself, and from that day on Mac has never been late to class, unless there was a very special reason.

Senator Arthur Vandenberg is being credited with a masterly job in maneuvering Senate approval of the Marshall Plan in a form highly acceptable to Secretary Marshall. Senator Robert Taft, however, with an opposing point of view, is to have his inning in the House where rougher going faces this Plan. Mr. Taft has strong influence in the House.

Friona Girls Trip Canyon Eaglettes

Downed by a 34-24 defeat from the Friona Squaws, the Canyon Eaglettes lost out in their first game at the Girls' District 20 Basketball Tournament at White Deer, Friday, February 27.

Canyon held Friona's tallies down in the early portion of the game, the score at the end of the first quarter being 7-1 in favor of the Eaglettes. But Friona began to warm up in the second quarter and rose above Canyon to the tune of 19-12 at the end of the first half. The last half saw Friona intercepting Canyon's passes and Canyon taking long shots, resulting in the final score of 34-24 in favor of Friona. Bobby Ford was high-point player with eleven points, followed by Martha Avent who sank eight. Chloe Black was a defensive star, but just couldn't quite reach tall number 84's shots.

During this district meet, Canyon scored more points against Friona than any of the remaining teams who entered. Friona beat McLean in the finals, 30-15.

Donald McDonald Is Selected Cowboy of Ninth Day Judging

Donald McDonald was selected from the ninth day's judging of the junior cowboy contest, sponsored by the Amarillo News-Globe. He will be eligible for first place prize of the horse and saddle.

Donald entered the seventh grade at Canyon High School at the first of the school year. He formerly attended W. T. grade school.

'Village Blacksmith' Is Shown

Last Monday afternoon Mrs. Cecil Simms and Mrs. R. E. Ball took their seventh grade classes to the auditorium to see the show which dramatized the poem "The Village Blacksmith." The two groups had taken the poem for their memory work and the show helped them understand the poem better.

Harold Stassen, candidate for Republican presidential nomination, has given thought to the idea of entering the race for Senatorial nomination in Minnesota if he misses out on the Presidency. Thus, he would oppose Senator Joseph Ball, who became Senator the first time as an appointee of the then Governor Stassen.

U. S. taxpayers are putting up nearly $10,000 per guerrilla in U. S. military supplies and military personnel to eliminate Greek guerrillas in this one year. Officials report, however, that at that price no guerrillas were eliminated, on a net basis. The cost may go up in the year ahead.

Rangers Defeat Canyon, 35-33

Dimmitt Bobcats Procure Regional Title, Saturday

Losing a 33-35 heart-breaking game to the highly touted Perryton Rangers, the Canyon Eagles lost their first game in the regional tournament.

Fighting to the last, the Eagles jerked the crowd to their feet when they spurted up to tie the Rangers 60 seconds before the game was over. The crowd yelled itself hoarse as Richard Walters and Tommy Hunter bounced two shots off the hoop. The given time ended with the game still tied. In the three minute overtime, Canyon forged ahead on four points made by Horace Carter and Tommy Hunter. An attempt to freeze the ball was unsuccessful. With 90 seconds to go, Perryton's Raymond Powell sunk 3 field goals to win the game by a 2-point margin.

Three boys played their last basketball game for the Purple and White last Friday. They are that versatile forward, Tommy Hunter, guard Meade Michael, and that outstanding center Austell Burrus. Hats off to these boys who have turned in an excellent season for the basketball team of Canyon High School.

Dimmitt fought its way to the top and won the final game by a score of 28-26 from Sudan. Teams representing districts were Floydada, Ralls, Sudan, Levelland, Perryton, Canyon, and Dimmitt.

J. E. Miller Makes Trip to Austin

In order to answer Dimmitt's recent protest of the eligibility of the Canyon Eagles, Principal J. E. Miller left Tuesday night, February 24, to go to Austin.

He met with the Interscholastic League States Executive Committee at 2:00 o'clock Wednesday afternoon which met to decide whether or not the Eagles could participate in the Regional Tournament. After hearing Mr. Miller's testimony in answer to the protest, the committee rejected Dimmitt's protest. Mr. Roy Bedicbek, league director, speaking for the committee stated that Supt. R. A. Vestal of Dimmitt had offered no documentary evidence to prove that Canyon had violated the rule which prohibits a team from entering more than three tournaments prior to the District Meet. The Eagles were therefore eligible to enter the Regional Basketball Tournament which was held in Canyon last Friday and Saturday.

High School Girls Report For Volley Ball Practice

Miss Paula Frazier, girls' coach at CHS, is sure that a large number of girls will report for volleyball practice this term.

All the members of last year's championship team are eligible to play, since none of the girls has reached the age limit.

Miss Frazier hopes to have the first team and the substitutes rolling along in their natural positions soon, with schedules for games worked out at the earliest possible moment.

"We're hoping to repeat our success of last year again this season," states Miss Frazier, "and we ought to make a good showing, since we have so many experienced players."

Field trips made by the second year agriculture class last week included one to the homes of Donnell Ruthardt and Golden Currie to weigh and determine if the boys' prize pigs are ready for the show. The class, also assisted Jerre Inman to shear his calf's head in readiness for the show.

Lions Review Club Aims and Growth Local Achievement

An informational program was presented at the Lions luncheon meeting last Thursday by members of the Education committee. Lion Aubrey Crossland reviewed in the introductory speech the statistics regarding the past growth and present strength of this unique service organization. There are a third of a million members in Lions International. Texas holds the enviable distinction of having three past presidents of the great organization, and will have a fourth one when H. C. Petry, Jr., of Carrizo Springs, the third vice-president, automatically becomes president.

Lion Clark Jarnigan then gave a review of the local club. It was organized in 1939, and has had six past presidents. Duties of the club committees were outlined and their responsibilities discussed. The plan of zone chairmen whose work is correlated with the district, state, regional and national activities, was ably outlined. The reading of the code of ethics in concert by the entire club was quite impressive.

Lion Milton Morris then gave a partial list of the outstanding projects sponsored by the Canyon Club. The list reminds one that the organization has been far more progressive in its service than the community maintains as a whole. The purchase of a club house, city park site, county library, and similar instances illustrate this type of leadership. The wide variety of its projects is indicated by the following samples: gathering of brick for the museum, a bicycle safety campaign, swimming instruction classes, a pagent "Land of Liberty," purchase of band instruments, cigarettes for servicemen overseas, a roadside waiting station, two telebinoculars for use in Canyon schools, sponsoring of a special train to a football game, a softball program, several clean-up campaigns, sponsored a canning center with 75,000 cans output, girl scout troop and 4-H club, minstrel show, movie for purchase of playground equipment, livestock show, and basketball games. It has also entertained the Lions International President, which brought many distinguished visitors to this city. Special music by the Lions quartet concluded the program.

Baptist Attendance Reaches New High In February

Sunday School attendance at First Baptist Church in Canyon broke all previous February attendance records with an average of 424, and this in spite of snow, rain and extreme cold, according to announcement of Superintendent A. K. Goodman. A steady increase in attendance has placed the average for the past six months at 396, which is also the highest for any like period.

Training Union, the organization for all ages, which meets for a training period at 6:45 each Sunday evening, broke all previous monthly averages with 192 for February, according to announcement of Miss Eula V. Potter, General Director. Pastor Roy L. Johnson credits this important training organization with chief credit for the large congregations at the Sunday night preaching services at 8:00. Some parts of the large Baptist church building are being filled to capacity by Sunday School departments, and one class of young men is using an entrance vestibule because no class room is available in the 70-room building.

James John Corbett, heavyweight boxing champion, was known as "Gentleman Jim."

Duo-Pianists To Play Sunday

Miss Matilda Gaume Mrs. Ples Harper Will Present Concert

The Canyon Branch of The American Association of University Women will present Matilda Gaume and Margaret Harper, duo-pianists, Sunday afternoon, March 7, in the Education Building Auditorium at 4 o'clock.

Miss Gaume is a graduate of the University of Wichita. She did advance work in piano and pedagogy at Northwestern University where she received her master's degree. She attended the Juillard School in New York City where she studied with Olga Samaroff Stowowski. Miss Gaume has made many solo appearances in the Panhandle. Her most recent was as soloist in the Greig Concerto with the Buffalo Concert Band.

Mrs. Harper is a graduate of the University of Arizona. She did her advanced work at Arizona and later at the American Conservatory in Chicago while finishing her master's degree at the University of Chicago. Mrs. Harper has traveled as accompanist and soloist with her father, Rollin Pease. She has also made several appearances in Lima, Peru, while living in South America.

Miss Gaume and Mrs. Harper presented several two-piano recitals last year.

They will present the following program:

"Toccata," Cassado-Berkowitz arrangement, by Frescobalde; "Sonata in D for Two Pianos," by Mozart; "Liebslieder Waltzes, Sta 1, Opus 52, By Brahms; "Laideronnette (March) Mother Goose Suite," by Ravel; "Pastorole," by Britain; and "Sabre Dance," by Khachaturian.

The public is cordially invited to attend.

House Foreign Affairs committee members will probably insist on more than token aid to China as a condition to passing the European Recovery Program legislation.

508 Veterans Now Enrolled at WT

There are now 508 veterans enrolled at West Texas State, according to figures from the office of Ted Reid, Co-ordinator of Veteran Affairs.

The figures for this semester show an increase of about 40 over last semester. About 50 per cent of the veterans are married.

Reid said the number of veterans attending Amarillo Center had not yet been tabulated.

I had a wonderful time yesterday in my hotel room. I ordered an ice-cream soda. I called the valet and asked him to press my suit. I asked a bell boy to buy all the afternoon papers and had my shoes shined. Almost any of these simple pleasures would have taken one day to three weeks to obtain in Europe.—David Schoenbrun, CBS Paris correspondent back from four years in Europe.

The Justice Department will crack a big expose of Communist activities in the U. S. before June. In addition to smoking out Red organizations and leaders, the facts will serve the political purpose of embarrassing Henry Wallace's supporters and help prove the Administration is unfriendly to Commies.

Malone, Kitchens Hurt in Car Wreck

Two basketball players from WT and freshman coach, Borden Price, suffered slight injuries shortly after midnight last Tuesday when the 1947 school Ford in which they were returning from the Tech game at Lubbock overturned on the icy highway three miles south of Canyon.

Price, who was driving the car, received a bruised shoulder, and both Sammy Malone of Stratford and Hubert Kitchens of Childress suffered minor head cuts.

Riding with Price were the five boys of the starting line-up in the Tech tilt. Uninjured were Glynn Braden of Sherman, Bill Allen of Stratford, and Charles Barnard of White Deer.

All of the injured were better, and Sammy and Cuby both were able to play in the game last night.

Conservative Democrats are fuming over Truman's inept bungling of political appointments. Latest move to provoke their anger was the President's meddling with the Securities & Exchange Commission, one New Deal agency which has kept its nose fairly clean. Despite all the advice to the contrary, Truman still wants to make ex-Wall Street lawyer Edmond M. Hanrahan chairman, only because Bronx boss Ed Flynn likes him.

You can't clear up the situation of the world by feeding people. Some men need to be fed, but others need to be clubbed, especially in eastern Europe.—Raymond Duncan, 73, brother of the late Isadora Duncan.

Maybe the world needs a series of one-power treaties with each power agreeing with itself to behave as it thinks the others should behave.

The inside story on the arrest of CIO's Philip Murray is that for the last seven months he had been pressuring the Justice Department to prosecute him for violating the Taft-Hartley Act political activities restrictions. Murray hoped to have a Supreme Court ruling on the case before the political conventions start this summer.

Experts Predict Big Wheat Crop

Output of Billion Bushels Again Would Permit Large Exports.

WASHINGTON. — Department of agriculture experts declare that another billion bushel wheat crop, which again would permit large exports, is possible in 1948.

Despite the adverse weather conditions which delayed seeding of the winter wheat crop, the experts said that if farmers planted as many acres of spring wheat in 1948 as in 1947 and the yields were average, a total crop of more than one billion bushels was possible.

This would be one of the six largest in history and again would permit large exports, the experts said.

New December Record.

December winter wheat report, first on the new crop, set winter wheat seedings at 58,648,000 acres, a new record. Production was estimated at 839 million bushels, assuming that the winter wheat crop develops normally.

The final 1947 crop report showed wheat production to be 42 million bushels below November estimates. Because of the decline, the department estimated the 1947-48 supply at 1,449,000,000 bushels. If 850 million bushels were consumed in the United States, including 250 million for feed, the experts pointed out, there would be 600 million bushels left over for export and carryover.

The United States could export 450 million bushels and still have a stockpile of 150 million bushels next July. Exports of 450 million bushels, the experts said, would be "by far the largest ever shipped by one nation in a single year and more than half of the 865 million bushels expected to enter world trade in 1947-48."

The report said that rising prices and aid to Europe continued to hold the spotlight in the United States economic scene.

Farmer Gets Top Price.

Farmers were receiving higher prices than ever before, but they also were paying more for the things they buy. The index of prices paid by farmers, including interest and taxes, in December, was a record 245, four points above November and 33 above a year earlier. The price index of things the farmers sell advanced to 301 in December, 14 points above a month earlier, 12 above the October record, 37 above December, 1946.

Average prices of wheat, oats, barley and cottonseed set new records; dairy products prices were second only to those of December, 1946; eggs were higher than in any December since 1920; meat animal prices broke through to a new all-time high. In contrast fruit prices declined and were 29 per cent lower than a year ago.

Tobacco Heiress, 87, Dies; Figured in Odd Romance

BALTIMORE.—Miss Emma Marburg, tobacco fortune heiress whose romance with an English tourist guide caused an international furore back in 1913, died at her home here. She was 87.

Miss Marburg was a sister of the late Theodore Marburg, one-time ambassador to Belgium.

The romance in England resulted in Miss Marburg's being declared insane but she subsequently obtained her release from a Baltimore institution.

Court testimony was that her brother, Theodore, broke up the romance with Frederick Fischer, who had escorted Miss Marburg and a niece, Miss Lucie Munder of Baltimore, on an automobile tour of Europe.

Her legacy at that time was calculated at $600,000 and she admitted on the stand she had promised to give Fischer $200,000 if he married her and had paid Miss Munder $25,000 not to marry the guide. Miss Munder and Fischer subsequently were married.

Navy Sends Photos Record Distance of 10,581 Miles

WASHINGTON. — The navy claimed a record of 10,581 statute miles for regularly scheduled long-range direct radiophoto transmissions from its mobile unit on board the Burton Island, icebreaker and headquarters ship of the current Navy Antarctic Expedition.

The Burton Island is maintaining a daily schedule of photograph and weather-chart transmissions direct to Washington from its base of operations in the Davis sea off the western edge of the Shackleton ice shelf. The daily schedule, begun December 15, marks the navy's first attempt to send weather charts from the Antarctic.

Jurisdiction Problem Solved By 'Border-Line' Marriage

BELLE FOURCHE, S. D.—It was a "border-line" marriage, but circumstances dictated it.

Eva R. Wheeler and Ervin Richards had planned their wedding in Aladdin, Wyo., and had engaged the Rev. Harold Salem of Belle Fourche to perform the ceremony.

But Mr. Salem couldn't do that, since his ministerial authority didn't extend into Wyoming.

So the parties compromised and the wedding was held on the Wyoming-South Dakota border.

Connecticut is called the Nutmeg State.

Cagers Receive Varsity Jackets

Gus Miller, head basketball coach, announced the following players received varsity jackets for the season of '47 and '48 in basketball.

The players he named are: Bill Allen, Stratford; Charles Barnard, White Deer; Bill Birdwell, Dimmitt; Boyce Box, Fort Worth; Glynn Braden, Sherman; Neil Jackson, Stratford; Hubert Kitchens, Childress; Sammy Malone, Stratford; Bill Miller, Canyon; and Don Woods, Clayton, New Mexico.

Cloyce Box, Fort Worth, was awarded letters in basketball and track because he received a varsity jacket in football.

Coach Miller also stated that Maurice Steen, Floydada, received a jacket for his work in track.

Republican Congressmen will block any attempt to move U. S. troops into Palestine when the British troops pull out May 15. If the British agree to postpone their departure and keep their forces in the Holy Land under UN auspices, the GOP will probably support U. S. sharing the costs.

FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover has demanded that the Civil Service Loyalty Review Board clarify the work of G-men in investigating the loyalty of Government employes, thus stopping fellow travelers' efforts to smear the FBI as a Gestapo agency.

Because our Constitution was formed by men largely of educated, English background, it, while aiming to provide equality for all, contained no Federal provisions for public education.—J. W. Studebaker, U. S. commissioner of education.

Former Trust Buster Thurman Arnold is being pressured by friends to run for U. S. Senate in Wyoming. A one-time Democratic legislator in the Sage-brush State, Arnold would be a happy choice to succeed Sen. Joe O'Mahoney should the latter get the nod as Truman's running mate.

Wisely the Founding Fathers did not include in the Constitution any provision for Federal control of education. They well understood how it could be used for partisan purposes.—Rep Ralph W. Gwinn (R-N. Y.)

State Department experts have warned Truman that Great Britain is in such sorry shape that a large emergency aid program in addition to the Marshall Plan will have to be drafted before the end of the year.
